

Webinar

End extortion now

Professionals dedicated to ending extortion will discuss key trends in extortion in different countries and resilient responses developed to counter this crime.

Wednesday, 19 January 2022
3pm CET

Click here to register

The Resilience Fund's annual Fellowship builds a platform for cross-sectoral, global and interdisciplinary collaboration between key actors working to counter the effects of organized crime.

Focusing on the theme 'extortion and organized crime', the 2021 Fellows have been incubating and growing efforts against extortion in a variety of locations around the world, documenting its causes and effects, and providing a voice to those affected by this crime.

In this webinar, we will discuss extortion and its impacts, and we will present case studies about civil society resilient responses that are being implemented to fight this crime.

Speakers

Miloš Katić
Vojvodina Investigative and Analytical Centre – Serbia

Riana Raymonde Randrianarisoa
Madagascar Network of Investigative Journalists – Madagascar

Vania Pigeonutt
Journalist – Mexico

Edoardo Zaffuto
Addiopizzo – Italy

Ponelo Kalonga
Save the Village Youth Foundation – Malawi

Josue Decavele
Photojournalist – Guatemala