

Enhancing International Collaboration Against Scams

CO-HOSTED BY THE UK GOVERNMENT AND GOOGLE

The proliferation of scams and fraud has become a major concern for us all. It damages economies, growth, and confidence.

As a largely cyber-enabled, transnational crime, a multi-sector approach between governments, law enforcement, private sector and civil society is required to solve the growing issue of fraud.

Join us in this discussion to deepen understanding of the global fraud threat and identify key areas for cooperation and collaboration.

Panellists:

- Fran Dowling, UK Home Office
- Louise Taylor, GI-TOC
- Lien Nguyen, Google
- Adewale Ogundele, INTERPOL
- Nima Binara, Google
- John Brandolino, UNODC
- Larissa Schneider Caiza, Brazil

26 OCTOBER 2025
11:00-12:00 | ROOM 347

UK Government

INTERPOL

GLOBAL INITIATIVE
AGAINST TRANSNATIONAL ORGANIZED CRIME

BRAZILIAN GOVERNMENT
BRASIL
STANDING WITH THE BRAZILIAN PEOPLE

SIDE EVENT TO THE UN CYBERCRIME CONVENTION SIGNING CEREMONY